Religious services will be held on the steamer wharf, to-morrow afternoon at 1 ... hree oblock

Preaching by Rev. A. O. Forbes. In consequence of a press of matter, we are issue since our supplement was printed. THEATRICAL.-W. E. Rogers, of the Rogers' California Troupe, takes a benefit to-night at the Hawaiian Theatre, and a good bill is offered.

250TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE LANDING OF THE PILGRIMS.-The Rev. S. C. Damon will preach a sermon, to-morrow morning, at the Bethel, in commemoration of the landing of the Pilgrims.

Hotel street, is being improved by an addition on the eastern end, to constitute a dressing room and stage, which will fit it better than before as a place in which to present public entertainments. A commendable enterprise. CHRISTMAS PRESENTS .- At Whitney's Bookstore may be found the usual varieties of choice juvenile reading matter, literary toys, etc., suitable for Christmas and New Years' presents. At Henck's can also be found a very desirable assortment of presentable articles, and so too at T. G. Thrum's. INHUMAN .- The creature who cut Mr. Lemon's horse one night last week, deserves worse punishment than if he had cut a man. It was evidently done with a sharp knife, and severed the skin across the ribs, a gash of about four inches. Man's inhumanity to man, don't compare with this instance of man's inhumanity to a dumb brute.

A NEW GROCERY STORE .- Walking along Maunakea street on Thursday evening, we found, nearly opposite the old Liberty Hall premises, a greery store in full blast, carried on by Mr. J. B. Silloway, formerly known as a hard-working honest and industrious shoemaker, both in Honolulu and the district it with Bennett's Own and the Times-both defunct. of Kau, Hawaii. Give him a call-he keeps open evenings as well as days.

Horn's Bake Shop and Confectionery, on PURE LOZENGES, MADE OF BEST CRUSHED SUGAR, 50 CENTS PER LB. Hotel street is the most complete, and the neatest establishment of the kind in Honolulu. Mr. Horn is a perfect artist in his line-makes the best bread, pastry and candies that the most fastidious taste can desire In the same building, up stairs, Mr. C. E. Williams has a large invoice, recently received, and now on sale, of a variety of musical instruments, that are well worth inspection by amateurs.

SUITABLE FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS.

A NEW WAY TO ADVERTISE .- A dealer in hardware whose name we are happy to say appears in our advertising columns-was seen one day this week walking up Fort Street with a steel spade on his shoulder. On being asked where he was going, he replied that he was going up to his * claim. a man, who advertises calchavely, is bound to HIGH CHARGES .- We hear complaints from natives to the effect that the charges for small articles of freight on the stemmy Klanca are excessive. They say that they ha / hav a metimes more than for its transportation. the actual value of ar obliged to leave out several articles prepared for this have fetched over half a dolin. In Honolulu, but for which one dollar and a half was demanded as freight by the steamer folks. The man quietly killed the pig, and gave him to the steamer, as satisfaction for the freight money.

POLICE COURT .- On Tuesday, it being the day after a holiday, there was, naturally enough, a good deal of business before the Police Court. Firstly, the Magistrate gave a decision in the case of the memoration of the landing of the Pilgrims.

Crown vs. Peavey, for selling spirits without a license, mulcting the prisoner in the penalty preLMPROVEMENT.—We learn that Buffum's Hall, on scribed by law, viz: $500. An appeal to the Supreme Court was noted by counsel, Mr. R. H. Stanley. A lot of drunks were disposed of quite leniently; some fast and furious riders were fined $10 each, and admonished, and some hulahula folks were also fined and instructed as to the law.

THE RAIN .- All through the summer and far into the autumn, we complained of the want of rain. But at length it came. The latter part of October, about the whole of November, and so far in December, we have had a good share of water. "It never rains but it pours." But let us thank Heaven for the needed favors, although street-walking may have been rendered disagreeable :

The rain, the rain, the beautiful rain, Welcome, welcome, it cometh again : It cometh with green to gladden the plain, And to wake the sweets in the winding lane.

THE "PUNCH BOWL."-Our readers will remember with pleasure the little monthly with the above title, whose piquant strictures on every-day occurrances, and whose correct English combined with a polished diction, when discussing political subjects, gained it the deserved esteem of all readers. It is now, however, a dead lion, and "Whitney's Daily Marine Bulletin" kicks at it viciously, by classing The title of "Marine" Bulletin appears to us a misnomer, seeing that gossip and criticism is freely and rather recklessly indulged in, as to matters that are not in the least marine in their nature.

CLEAR AS MUD .- In the Police Court reports of the Gazette of Wednesday last, we find the following mysterious paragraph :

"The respondent was then sentenced to pay the penalty of $500, being the amount imposed by the statute without any discretion or power of mitigation in the Courts, with the costs of prosecution, but declined to add any of the discretionary term of impresonment in this the first conviction against the

It was certainly cruel on the part of the " Respondent "after being sentenced to pay the penalty of $500, to decline to add any of the discretionary term of imprisonment. In fact, it amounts to a contempt of Court. HIS MAJESTY'S BIRTH-DAY .- Last Monday, the fortieth anniversary of the birth of Kamehameha V., was duly celebrated. Salutes were fired at dawn by the Artillery Company; at noon by the U. S. S. St. Marys, responding gun for gun, to the guns from the shore; and at sundown a royal salute was hred from the battery on Punchbowl. Numerous luaus were given in town and in the environs, in spite of the generally stormy and wet weather, and everybody seemed to have a good time. The shipping in the harbor were gaily decorated with bunting, and all the consular flags were displayed. At noon, His Majesty received the congratulations of his Min-isters, Foreign Officials, and others, at his sea-side BUGLARIES .- There were two attempts, during last week, to commit robbery by entering the counting houses of parties whom the burglars apparently suppose were foolish enough to keep their cash in such unsafe places. The night of Friday, the 8th instant, was very dark and rainy, and consequently was chosen for the business in hand. Mr. H. M. Whitney's store was entered from the rear, but nothing of importance was secured by the thieves. Some phourrent coins was the only reward of their trouble. They were still less lucky at the store of Lewers & Dickson. There they had partially unscrewed a hinge on the door of the safe, when the entrance of Mr. Williams, the clerk, at the front door, who had come down at an unusually early hour in the morning to do some writing (4 o'clock) caused them to decamp. It is thought, from the bungling nature of these attempts, that they were made by coolies discharged from plantation service. GOOD FOR MOLOKAL .- " A. F." in the last Gazette, in a flowery and polished production, finds fault with our item of last week, headed "It can't be-done," referring to the communication signed " Molokai " in the last number of that journal, in which communication it was urged that the steamer Kilnuca should be made to stop at Kaunakakai for freight and passengers on each of her trips, up and down. The absurdity of the recommendation was exemplified by another recommendation, shortly after made public, that she should also stop at Lanai, going and coming. These rules, if adopted, would be rather hard on the Kilauea. She is Government property, and, while managed economically, must be used for the benefit of those who pay the taxes that produce the money by which she was fitted out. If Molokai wants the steamer to call, and can offer sufficient inducements. she will be sure to be accommodated, and we would be glad to see such a sign of prosperity. But it has not been shown us yet. CRUELTY TO ANIMALS. -- We can conceive of no better term in connection with the paragraph on Wednesday's "Whitney's Daily Bulletin," about the suspension of The Times, headed "Died." It certainly was unkind in a publisher who has been successful, to jeer at one who has not. It reminds one of Æsop's fable, the boys and the frogs. Said the latter, "It may be fun for you, but it is death to us." With some undeniably prominent faults, the Times had shown some good qualities, and for one or two leading articles, descrives a niche in the record of Hawaiian journalism. The retiring editor, in the last two or three paragraphs of his leader, intimates that in the future he is going to be connected with the press of the United States; and hints, rather broadly, that he is intending to correct the " very superficial and consequently erroneous views" of our actual political condition, and "the functions of the local government, as well as the principles and practice by which these are fulfilled." Said Solomon, "O that mine enemy would write a book !" Bennett's Own, it appears, is to be revived.

To the Editor of the Pacific Commercial Advertiser:

Sin: -Will you allow me space in your valuable columns to make a few remarks in reference to the performance at the Royal Hawaiian Theatre on Monday evening last. I had made an arrangement with Mr. Claremont, as the representative of Miss Evans, for Mr. Neill and myself to appear in conjunction with her for six nights, commencing on the abovementioned evening. On hearing this, a gentleman with whom I had had a little unpleasantness, assured Mr. Claremont that he had made a grave error ; as, although the people of Honolulu would come to see Miss Evans, they would certainly not patronize her if she played with me. Now, sir, this same gentleman had been the first to advise Miss Evans, on her arrival here, to play with Mr. Neill and myself, as it would prove attractive. The public, he said, were tired of seeing portions of plays with only two peo-ple; but this was before the unpleasantness referred to. Mr. Claremont, bearing this in mind, deter-mined to carry out the arrangement, but my gentle-man was far from satisfied. On Monday night, during the performance, messages were brought to Miss Evans, at the back of the stage (I don't say by whom), to the effect that a number of the audience in the dress circle were displeased at her playing with me; that the performance was the worst that had been given since her sojourn here, and that they would not come to see her again unless she played by herself. Miss Evans, I presume, deeming this to be true, thought fit to break the agreement, so far as she was concerned. This being noised abroad, several geotlemen, thinking I had been unfairly treated, took upon themselves, without consulting me, to get up a memorial to Miss Evans, desiring that she might continue the combination. It was signed by a number of gentlemen who had witnessed the per-formance, and the gentlemen whom the messenger had quoted as having expressed their aversion to my appearing, denied the matter entirely. The gentle-man deputed to wait on Miss Evans was told by her, in answer to the memorial, that she did not recognize the signatures of any gentlemen; Mr. Claremont at the same time saying that he was "sur-prised Mr. Rayner should lend himself to such a proceeding." I would not have intruded upon your good nature (as I have at all times an aversion to rush into print), had I not been requested to do so by a number of the gentlemen signing the memorial, who were naturally offended at the manner in which it had been received. NEW GOODS slander me, I suppose it is an infirmity of his nature, so I pity him. Believe me to be, sir, Yours, etc.,

In conclusion, allow me to remark that I write this from no ill-feeling; I am too great a lover of my profession to wish to injure any member of it. As for the gentleman who went so far out of his way to
